

Each numbered item below is one of the columns I deleted, and its explanation why.

- 1) Line: I don't know what this is a line for, and I wouldn't need to see this unless it was part of a reference to the specific document.
- 2) Section: Unnecessary. The section number would just clutter the screen, it would be nice to know once you click on a course, but before that it is unneeded.
- 3) Openings: I just need to know if the class is open or not, not how many openings there are currently. That would be something to display on the details page.
- 4) StartTime and EndTime I combined into "Time" because it was necessary information (for schedule planning) but as different cells cluttered the screen too much.
- 5) Capacity: The same as openings.
- 6) Room: This is unnecessary until you actually sign up for the class, especially since the campus is small. Travel time between classes is essentially irrelevant.
- 7) Start (had to remove the space between Start and Date, so now its just start): All classes start the same day (generally), this would be something for the details page.
- 8) End: Same as start.
- 9) Campus: This is for the details page, 99% of classes are on the main campus and the other campus is in another state.
